PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT ACTS 2000 TO 2009

NOTICE OF DIRECT PLANNING APPLICATION TO AN BORD PLEANÁLA IN RESPECT OF A STRATEGIC INFRASTRUCTURE DEVELOPMENT

COUNTIES MEATH, CAVAN & MONAGHAN

In accordance with Section 182A of the Planning and Development Act 2000 as inserted by the Planning and Development (Strategic Infrastructure) Act 2006, EirGrid plc on behalf of ESB Networks gives notice of its intention to make an application for Approval to An Bord Pleanála in relation to the proposed construction of that portion of the overall planned Meath – Tyrone 400 kV Interconnection Development within the Republic of Ireland. EirGrid plc is making the application on behalf of ESB Networks in accordance with clause 7.6 of the Infrastructure Agreement between EirGrid and ESB Networks under article 18 of SI No.445/2000. The proposed development which is the subject of this application is part of a larger project comprising a strategic cross-border electricity interconnector (approximately 140 km long) linking the existing electricity transmission networks of Northern Ireland (via a proposed new substation at Turleenan, Co Tyrone) and the Republic of Ireland (via the existing substation at Woodland, near Batterstown, Co Meath). The overall Meath – Tyrone 400 kV Interconnection Development comprises a transboundary development.

The proposed development which is the subject of this application comprises the following elements:

1. Addition to substation equipment and compound extension of ESB Woodland substation in the townland of Woodland, west of Batterstown, County Meath to include: construction of a new lattice steel gantry (31 m in height), cable sealing ends, surge arresters and 250 m length of 400 kV underground cable. The proposal includes a western extension of the existing substation compound of approximately 0.7 ha; including all associated construction and site development works and modifications to the palisade fence at the existing substation.
2. The addition of a 400 kV circuit along the currently unused (northern) side of the existing double circuit 400 kV overhead transmission line between the substation at Woodland, Co Meath, and a point near the townland boundaries of Bogganstown and Curraghtown (approximately 2.8 km), crossing the following townlands in Co Meath: Woodland, Creemore, Hayestown, Curraghtown and Bogganstown;
3. A new single circuit 400 kV overhead transmission line (approximately 55 km), and associated structures, extending from a point near the townland boundaries of Bogganstown (ED Culmullin) and Curraghtown, Co Meath to a proposed new 400 kV double circuit tower in the townland of Clonturkan, Co Cavan. The proposed transmission line, associated towers (ranging in height from 29 – 44 m) and other ancillary structures, generally run along a northern alignment through the following townlands in County Meath: Curraghtown, Woodtown (ED Culmullin), Culmullin, Derrypatrick, Martinstown (ED Galtrim), Galtrim, Boycetown, Branganstown, Walterstown (ED Galtrim), Crumpstown or Marshallstown (ED Galtrim), Ardrackan or Wrightown, Creroge, Finlaghtown Little, Knockstown (ED Kilmessan), Trubley, Rathnally, Dunganney, Balbrigh, Dunlough, Rataine, Philpotstown (ED Clonmacduff), Churchtown, Halltown, Irishtown (ED Ardrackan), Ongenstown, Betaghstown (ED Ardrackan), Neillstown (Ardrackan), Durhamstown, Grange (ED Ardrackan), Tankardstown (ED Ardrackan), Castlemartin, Teltown, Gibstown Demesne, Oristown (ED Teltown), Clongill, Fletcherstown, Dowdstown (ED Castletown), Mountainstown, Drakerath, Clooney, Raffin, Rahood, Moynagh, Brittas, Altmush (ED Cruicetown), Cruicetown (ED Cruicetown), Boynagh (ED Kilmainham), Eden, Towas, Shancor, Aghamore, Lislea, Tullyweel, Moorlagh; and the following townlands in County Cavan: Balloughly, and Clonturkan;
4. A new 400 kV substation, including all associated structures, site development and landscaping works (including proprietary waste water treatment system and percolation area, compound perimeter palisade fencing and appropriate site boundary treatment), in the townland of Moyhill, Co Meath, located within a total site area of approximately 16.8 hectares. Two options for substation design are proposed. The first option is an Air Insulated Switchgear (AIS) substation, comprising control buildings (totalling approximately 465 sq m and approximately 5 m in height), and associated electrical equipment and structures (with a maximum height of 29 m), all within a compound of approximately 5.3 ha. This option requires the demolition of an existing habitable house. The second option is a Gas Insulated Switchgear (GIS) substation comprising a 220 kV switchgear/control building (totalling 677 sq m and with a maximum height of 11 m), a 400 kV switchgear building (totalling 519 sq m and with a maximum height of 13 m), and associated electrical equipment and structures (with a maximum height of 27 m), within a compound of approximately 1 ha. Both design options provide for a new vehicular access point onto the L-28043-1 road and new internal access road;
5. A diversion of the existing 220 kV Flagford – Louth overhead transmission line consisting of a new double circuit 220 kV overhead transmission line (approximately 2.3 km long), and associated structures, extending from a point at the townland of Carrowreagh, Co Cavan into the proposed new Moyhill 400 kV Substation, Co Meath. The proposed diverted line and associated towers (ranging in height from 21 – 55 m), and will follow an alignment through the townland of Moyhill Co. Meath and the townlands of Drumbar (ED Enniskeen) and Carrowreagh Co. Cavan;
6. A new double circuit 400 kV overhead transmission line (approximately 1.4 km) and associated structures (ranging in height from 24 – 68 m) extending northwards from the new substation at Moyhill, Co. Meath traversing the townland of Moyhill Co. Meath, the Meath - Cavan County Boundary (at the townland of Drumbar, Co. Cavan (ED Enniskeen) to connect with a new 400 kV single circuit transmission line in the townland of Clonturkan Co. Cavan;
7. A new single circuit 400 kV overhead transmission line (approximately 46 km) and associated structures, extending from the 400 kV double circuit in the townland of Clonturkan Co. Cavan to a point where the line intersects with the jurisdictional border with Northern Ireland at the townlands of Lemgare Co Monaghan. The proposed transmission line and associated structures (ranging in height from 21 – 37 m) runs generally northwards through the following townlands in County Cavan: Clonturkan, Carrowreagh, Corraney (ED Enniskeen), Laragh, Cordoagh (ED Enniskeen), Leiter (ED Enniskeen), Corrycholman, Dinging, Collups, Corglass (ED Enniskeen), Cornamagh, Corlea (Clankee By), Drumiller and Lisagoan; and the following townlands in County Monaghan: Scaikill, Ballaghneagern, Corlea (ED Magheraclonoe), Greaghlonge, Doagh, Cornalragh, Raferagh, Corvaly (Farney By), Ardragh, Sreenty, Ummeratree, Corrinenty, Cornasassonagh, Tullyglass, Tooa, Drumillard (Cremorne By), Aghmakerr, Boraghy, Brackly (Cremorne By), Cooltrimegish, Tullynahinera, Greagh (Cremorne By), Drumhawan, Drumguillew Lower, Clogher, Crinkill, Cornamucklagh South, Terrygreaghan, Rausker, Cornanure (Monaghan By), Cargaghramer, Drumroosk, Lennan, Derryhallagh (Monaghan By), Clarderry, Cornamucklagh North, Annagh (Cremorne By), Carrickanure, Cashel, Tassan, Latnakelly, Annaglogh, Lisdrumgormly, Lemgare and Coolartragh.

The proposed 400 kV single circuit transmission line traverses the jurisdictional border with Northern Ireland at the townland of Lemgare, Co Monaghan and extends to a proposed new substation at Turleenan, Co Tyrone. This proposed element is the subject of a concurrent application by Northern Ireland Electricity (NIE) to the competent authority of Northern Ireland.

It is proposed to construct the new transmission line and associated structures within a corridor with a maximum width of 80 m. The proposal includes for all associated construction, site development and landscaping works.
